

Confirmed Speaker

Mr Alexander Jan

September 10, 2018

Recently appointed Arup's Chief Economist, Alexander Jan is also a director in Arup's City Economics team - part of Arup's Integrated City Planning group. An economist by training, Alexander is responsible for leading work on financing and funding of transport projects as well as wider infrastructure advisory work with a strong economic and finance component. Alongside a strong strategic and technical understanding of the impact of transport projects, Alex brings in-depth knowledge of the relationship between transport and economic growth. He has written extensively on policy challenges facing world cities.

He is a Fellow of the UK Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport and former advisor to the Mayor of London's infrastructure delivery board.

Attend the

Plenary 2 – The City of Today and Tomorrow – Challenges and Smart Options
What are the impacts of the global digital economy on future cities?

REGISTER NOW!