

Confirmed Moderator

Dr. Nelson Ogunshakin OBE

September 9, 2018

Nelson Ogunshakin is the newly appointed Chief Executive of the FIDIC. Prior to taken up this role, he was the President & Chief Executive of ACE in the UK and transformed the organisation to be one of the most effective and vibrant FIDIC Member Association. He has previously worked in several executive board director level positions with multidisciplinary consultancies and contracting business. He is a Chartered Engineer, holds MSc in Construction Management, MBA in strategic planning & corporate finances with over 35 years corporate & project experiences. He is a Fellow of the ICE, Member of CI Arb, and Chartered Institute of Marketing. His main expertise includes business strategic planning, project finance, design, procurement and project delivery, dispute resolutions, M&A, corporate restructuring and change management within infrastructure sector.

Nelson is currently a Board Member of Transport for London (TfL) with an annual turnover of £10 billion, Board member of Cross Rail Limited responsible for delivery of £14.8bn new rails system in London, and Chairman of Investment Committee of ARM Harith infrastructure Investment Funds for Africa. He is a RAEng Visiting Professor of Infrastructure development and finance at Aston University and University of East London in the UK.

Attend the

FIDIC YOUNG PROFESSIONAL SYMPOSIUM

REGISTER NOW!